This arrangement has often had us playing through cold, windy weather early, but skipping some of the most temperate days of the year in September and October. Q5 PSS Summer Season teams are chosen through three separate “drafts”. Players select in which division — Major, Triple-A or Double-A — they would like to play, and are then included in that division’s draft. An alternate suggestion would have all players included in a common draft. For example, the first 66 players would be selected by Major division managers and would be assigned to play on six Major teams. The next 72 would be selected by Triple-A division managers and assigned to six Triple-A teams. Double-A managers would draft all remaining players onto Double-A teams. Should PSS initiate a single common draft or maintain the current system of separate drafts?

Separate Drafts — Current System	65.79% 25
Common Draft — Alternate Proposal	34.21% 13

Q6 The minimum age for playing in PSS is 45. This was lowered from 50 several years ago. Some would like to see the minimum age raised back to 50, or perhaps higher. A higher minimum would apply to new players only. (Current players under a new minimum age would be “grandfathered” and exempt from the new minimum.) What should be the minimum age to join and play Prescott Senior Softball?

Q11 Consider the two softballs — Ball ‘A’ and Ball ‘B’ — described below: Ball ‘A’ is harder than Ball ‘B’. Because it is harder, it comes off the bat faster and, when batted squarely, carries about 5% to 10% farther than Ball ‘B’. A 290-foot fly-out with Ball ‘B’ would be a 310-foot home run with Ball ‘A’. However, because Ball ‘A’ is harder and travels faster, there is a greater likelihood that a player struck by a sharply batted Ball ‘A’ would suffer a more serious injury — a possible fracture instead of a bruise — than one struck by Ball ‘B’. Which ball would you recommend for use by Prescott Senior Softball?

Answered: 38 Skipped: 0

ANSWER CHOICES	RESPONSES
Ball ‘A’ — Harder; Carries farther	52.63% 20
Ball ‘B’ — Less hard; Less severe injuries	47.37% 18

1	Although we start early in the day to avoid playing in the heat, the games are getting longer and longer. Two. Shortened game times, one suggestion would be to stop the warm-ups in between innings for the pitchers. They're not throwing fast balls, there's no reason for them to warm up. Maybe that will get the other players to get in and out of The dugout quicker. Improving the pace of play. The one exception would be the first inning when the infield and outfield are doing warm-ups. Also if a player walks and they know that they have a pinch runner available, either coming out of the dugout or already coaching first base, that runner should just be able to take the base instead of having the batter walk down to first, then have the runner walk out to the dugout and have the batter walk back to the dugout, also increasing the pace of play.	12/5/2023 3:44 PM
